

3003 Aluminum Coil

3003 Aluminum Coil Description:

3003 aluminum coil is an aluminum alloy with manganese as the main alloying element, which cannot be strengthened by heat treatment. High plasticity, good welding performance, higher strength than 1-series pure aluminum, stronger corrosion resistance, similar to 1-series aluminum alloy.

Because 3003 aluminum coil has impact resistance and is not easy to break and leak, it can be used as a better material for power battery shell materials. In daily life, our common wine bottle caps, beverage bottle caps, cosmetic caps, etc. can be made of 3003 aluminum coils.
