2014 Aluminum Sheet - Excellent Quality Aluminum

2014 aluminum sheet is the second most popular of the 2000-series aluminum alloys, after 2024 aluminum alloy. It is commonly extruded and forged. The corrosion resistance of this alloy is particularly poor. To combat this, it is often clad with pure aluminum. If unclad 2014 aluminum is to be exposed to the elements, it should be painted as a corrosion protection measure.

2014 aluminum plate has high strength and good cutting performance. 2014 aluminum plate is used in applications requiring high strength and hardness (including high temperature), such as: mold, high-strength machine parts, heavy forgings, slabs and extrusion Materials, wheels, truck frames and suspension system parts.
